Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 17 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A bright and sunny weekend. Frosts overnight.

Today:
A frosty start, quickly warming up with plenty of sunshine. Staying bright but some patchy high cloud possible across the region later. Feeling cooler along the coasts despite the sunshine. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tonight:
Any remaining cloud will gradually fade away during the evening, leaving clear skies for much of the night. Feeling cold with a sharp frost forming. Minimum temperature -3 deg C (27 deg F).

Sunday:
Another fine and dry day with widespread sunshine. Feeling warm for most with light winds, however cloudy conditions developing along the coast towards dusk. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Continuing with cold, frosty mornings inland but milder near the coasts under patchy cloud. This cloud will gradually melt away during the morning to leave fine, sunny days once again.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.